Meeting Policy/CME

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the American Academy of Cosmetic Surgery is to advance the specialty of cosmetic surgery and quality patient care. The AACS is committed to advancing the specialty of cosmetic surgery and improving quality patient care through the provision of high-quality Continuing Medical Education (CME) to our members.

AACS: CREATING PATHWAYS TO LEARNING

AACS believes it is important to incorporate several different learning methods to complete the educational process. Certainly, didactic lectures with questions and answers, such as those found during general sessions, are important. The sharing of experiences with colleagues is invaluable, but is not sufficient for a total learning experience. Concentrated learning sessions provided in our instruction courses are another very important facet of the process, allowing individuals quality time with one or more experts.

No surgical learning process, however, is complete without a workshop setting, incorporating focused lectures with demonstrations, and if possible, either simulated or actual hands-on experience.

Whether it is an established technique or one still unfolding, the learning process must be thorough and multifaceted. The Academy urges each surgeon to be responsible for seeking out a complete pathway to training, prior to incorporating any technique into his or her practice.

Patient safety and satisfaction can only be achieved through a commitment to comprehensive physician education and learning.

CME CREDIT STATEMENT

The American Academy of Cosmetic Surgery is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide Continuing Medical Education (CME) for physicians.

The American Academy of Cosmetic Surgery designates this live activity for a maximum of 18.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. A certificate of attendance will be distributed after completion of the program; however, this does not imply that the participant has achieved proficiency with the procedures.

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

This meeting will offer attendees a chance to see the best practices in the field, perfect their own set of skills and improve their practice and the care they bring to their patients. The focus on patient safety will be paramount to our advancement of cosmetic surgery science.

HOW TO CLAIM YOUR CMES

To obtain your CME Certificate, complete the CME Evaluation that will be emailed to you at the conclusion of the meeting.

Once calculated, members' CME Certificates will be available in the CME Repository, located on the AACS website.

For non-members, your CME Certificate will be emailed to you approximately one month from the completion of the evaluation.
